

Education Spotlight

Santa Fe College

This year's Digital Media Student Showcase opened to a record crowd in the Santa Fe President Hall gallery on April 29. Those present enjoyed a great display of student work in graphic design, digital video and animation.

President Jackson Sasser welcomed the guests and introduced department coordinator Jorge Ibanez who proceeded to present awards in 16 different categories. Specially popular were the posters and the videos.

The show will be in the president's lobby through May 27. Through the run of the show, the public will be able to watch the students' videos and website designs in four 27 inch iMac monitors placed through the lobby.

Just in case you missed it:

An online photo gallery of the opening night by student Julie Garrett:

<http://gallery.me.com/juliegarrett#101034>

Watch a video of the opening night events by student Muriel Akamatsu:

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=RFiYGxcOthA>

Show poster by Magdalena Raszka.